

Shot list

Beginning:

Shop exterior

Charlie introduces with monologue about store failing then gets walloped.

Exposed wiring from ceiling (falls onto table on onto person)

Intro sequence (Neitonas greenscreen opening)

Customer enters and asks for cereal, knocks on freezer and hand gives a bowl

Flashback (similar to Family Guy cutaway but very short and overly simplistic such as comparing something to his worst morning ever and then cutting to a short clip of him spilling a cup of tea and immediately crying)

Junkies (general customer dealings – can include tip jar instead of cash register joke)

Choking (someone starts choking and either it's forgotten that its scripted and the security guard gives the Heimlich manoeuvre even though they're fine, or have the scene be taken as a scripted joke but they're actually choking)

Middle:

Milkshake throwing ad

Innocent court advert

Short Neitonas cheese ad

Angus morning routine

End:

Conversation between leads (a nice wholesome conversation that can represent their unlikely friendship)

Criminal gets tackled by director – comes back coated in blood

Half off (someone can't afford something and so they offer it half-off and bring out a saw before starting to cut)

Smoke break (cuts back and forth between characters during conversation, with each cut back to a person showing them with more and more candy sticks in their mouth – nobody points it out)

Nigel (Leader of an illegal mock paper business – where the junkies come from)

Angus nationality (despite constant references to Angus being Scottish, he reveals he isn't actually Scottish by the end)

Missed high five freeze frame (ending scene before credits)

Characters:

Angus (Neitonas) – A simple man, in nature and education. Always carries a hammer with him in his right hand, no matter how difficult it makes any action, which he will use to “reduce” products. Relatively new to the store.

Adam (Charlie) – An overly narcissistic person who sees himself as the centre to any nearby happening. Overly ambitious and believes himself to be able to solve any problem, whilst being terrible at doing so and making constant, dramatic mistakes. Very street smart but never finished school.

Kerry (Ollie) – A highly intelligent person, using this job as a temporary stepping stone to achieve greater heights. Doesn’t initially want to befriend anyone as he believes it would only be temporary and provide little benefit, though he will end up becoming friends with Adam. Lazy, but very effective when convinced to get something done. Very book smart but with no common sense.

(cuts between each character after every line)

Adam: *taking a candy stick out of its box and putting it in his mouth* you smoke?

Kerry: *raises sleeve to show multiple faded tattoos from candy sticks boxes* I used to...

Adam: never mind then-

Kerry: No, no, I’ll have one or two, can’t do any more harm

Adam: Alright, fair enough, here.

Kerry: *puts candy stick into his mouth* Thanks, mind if I have another one?

Adam *2 sticks in his mouth* sure *hands more over*

Kerry: *3 sticks already* Cheers. You mind if I can bum another for later?

Adam: *5 sticks in his mouth* Sure, sure

Kerry: *7 sticks in his mouth* bad habit, I know. I’m not going to get any more after this

Adam: *9 sticks* It’s fine, I have plenty

Kerry: *11 sticks* Ah, our shift is back on, we should get going

Adam: *as many as possible* Alright

(both bite down)
